educators everywhere confront critical issues related to families schooling and teaching in diverse settings directly addressing this reality home school connections in a multicultural society shows pre service and practicing teachers how to recognize and build on the rich resources for enhancing school learning that exist within culturally and linguistically diverse families combining engaging cases and relevant key concepts with thought provoking pedagogical features this valuable resource for educators at all levels provides detailed portraits of diverse families that highlight their unique cultural practices related to schooling and the challenges that their children face in school settings introduces key sociocultural and ethnographic concepts in ways that are both accessible and challenging and applies these concepts as lenses through which to examine the portraits shows how teachers and researchers have worked with diverse families to build positive relationships and develop learning activities that incorporate children s unique experiences and resources disrupting deficit assumptions about the experiences and knowledge that culturally and linguistically diverse children acquire in their homes and communities this book engages readers in grappling deeply and personally with the chapters meanings and implications and in envisioning their own practical ways to learn from and with families and children this work offers guidelines for curriculum design and teaching approaches for adult education programmes that are broader and more interactive than many existing programmes for undereducated adults the authors describe ways in which classes can be organized and lessons developed around the specific needs and interests of adult learners rather than around pre packaged materials
